

MAIDENS WHO STUDY ART.

HOW THEY TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PETER COOPER'S PHILANTHROPHY.

Large Classes in Oil Paisting, Cast Drawing Wood-Engraving and Crayon Pisstographs in the Free Art School for Women in Cooper Union. The Conditions of Admission—How the Work is Carried On.

UT of aspirit of thankfulness, more than two hundred and fifty maidens with souls that aspire to art bless the memory of old Peter Cooper daily. His beneficent shekels have prepared a home for those lovers of casthetics where the best of instruction is supplied to them for nothing. It is the Free Art School for Women in Cooper Union.

The present arrangement will not permit more than two hundred and seventy-five to receive the benefit of this gratuitous course. Fully two hundred and fifty are waiting for a chance to get in. The whole course embraces four years. Those who are admitted have only to register each naw term. The applicants who come too late have the precedence in following years if they apply again.

Schuyler made the reporter wait a moment while she explored this nysterious department to see how the model was provided with clothes. There was no model then, the case how the model was provided with clothes. There was no model then, while she explored this nysterious department to see how the model was provided with clothes. There was no model then, while she explored this nysterious department to see how the model was provided with clothes. There was no model then, while she explored this nysterious department to see how the model was provided with clothes. There was no model then, while she explored this nysterious department of such the ment of such the ment of such the ment of such the ment of such the new to a purport of the school passantly directing the young women had a round leather pad on which she refeted her block. The picture the young women had a round leather pad on which she resided her block, The picture flows. China painting glass to see the lines.

China painting seated around the plantform on which the ment reason applicants who come too late have the precedence in following years if they apply again.

Three conditions are exacted in those who seek to profit by old Peter Cooper's benevolence-moral character, some aptitude for art and an inability to pay for instruction in it. It is also law that youthfulness below sixteen, or a maturity on the shady side of thirty-five, renders one ineligible. Under airten they are supposed to require more practical branches than sesthetical ones, and over thirty-five they are believed to have no very striking talent, since it has not stirred in them before.

The Free Art School for Women in the old brown-stone Cooper Union aims at equipping young women of reduced circumstances with the means of earning an honest livelihood. The pupils receive a full course, including drawing from the casts, a life school, painting in oil and water-colors, touching negatives, finishing photographs, designing for the industrial arts and wood-engraving.

The greater number of applications are for the antique and life school.
The larger number of the pupils start in with a most comprehensive ignorance of art.

After two months studies, beginning with

After two months studies, beginning with the very rudiments, if the young woman fails to show some merit, she is gently dropped to give room for a worthier applicant.

The Cooper Union graduates get very good positions, in many instances, as teachers of drawing and painting in academies and normal school. Their salaries range from $1.200 to $1.500 a year. Those who get to be skilful in "doing" photographs receive orders for them. Sometimes $40 or $50 are paid for a pastel, water-color or sepia photograph.

The graduates also find occupation in designing for stained-glass factories, making patterns for rugs and carpets and also de-signs for wall paper. Some of the most suc-cessful of the wood-engravers have furnished woodcuts to the Century magazine.

The lessons are given through eight

The lessons are given through eight months of the year. The hours are from 9 A. M. to 1 r. M. The students are allowed to use the rooms, however, till 4 r. M.

The staff of professors in the Art School are Mrs. Susan N. Carter, principal; Mrs. Mary B. Young, clerk; R. Swain Gifford, teacher of oil painting to the morning class, and I. Alden Weir to the evening class. William Sartain teaches the afternoon class in the life and cast department, of which I. Carrol Beckwith has general charge; Miss Alice Hinds, teacher of normal drawing; John P. Davis, teacher of wood engraving; Mrs. M. C. B. Ellis, teacher of colorgraphs; Mrs. Lucy A. Poe, teacher of colo of cast drawing.

Mrs. Schuyler kindly took a World reporter Mrs. Schuyler kindly took a World reporter through the rooms to see how the work was conducted. In several of them young women were seated at easels making copies of casts. A large room at the north was occupied by the photograph workers. Some photograph is enlarged and the "solar print" given to the artist, who works it up. Some were using sepia, some pastels and some water-colors. The work was very good.

The next room was the life-class. Mrs.

SPORTS OF FIELD AND RING.

MOLASSES IN 'EM.

That's What Makes Boston Beans Less Pallid than the New York Variety.

SAID Boston beans!" This is what he said, and the waiter took away a small slab of ham and a collection

Passing out of the coffee-house, the reporter interviewed the sutler.
"What is the difference between Boston beans and the other kind?"

beans and the other kind?"
"Why, there ain't no difference in the bean," said he of the commissary department, with the lofty airs of a scientist.
"Yes, there is. A man got some beans, and sent them back, saying he wanted Boston beans."
"Oh! Boston beans has molasses in 'em, and New York beans hain't. I'll show you."
He passed to the bean pans and gathered a few of each variety.

He passed to the bean pans and gathered a few of each variety. "You can smell the molasses in 'em," he said, as he held the smoking dish in front of said, as he held the smoking dish in front of the reporter. The steam that rose from the Boston heap perfumed the air with a faint odor of sorghum.

The New Englander who is on familiar terms with the esculent which Boston cherishes as tenderly as the Common or John L.
Sullivan, knows that it is not molasses which makes baked beans ambrosis fit for gods.

They are as brown as a well-colored meerschaum and have a rich speculence born of schaum and have a rich succulence born of injected pork and culinary art, but this in-comparable supremacy of the Boston baked bean is not to be compassed in foreign places by a spoonful of molasses. Oh, no!

Why Girls Object to be Nurses.

(From Rarper's Basar.)
The prejudice against adopting this most useful profession in America to-day seems based upon two objections—first, the necessity of an apprentwo objections—first, the hecessity of an apprenticeship of systematic work; secondly, the fear of losing caste. All professors and teachers in training schools agree, we believe, in an opinion that the American woman is greatly shead of her English companion in class, in quickness, and what may be called class knowledge, but lacks much that relates to discipline, and requires a constant sumulant of excitement or praise. She therefore is apt to illustrate the old theory of the tortoise and the hare. It is hard work for her to be content with uneventful progress, and unfortunately she is inclined, after a lew months of study, to decide in favor of the medical profession as afording her a wider field for her solitity. But would it not be better to adopt the foreign point of view in this question? Consider how overcrowded the medical profession is with men; consider how displied and useful a woman's position may be as superintendent of a hospital, in which all her most womanly instincts as well as her very highest mental capacity may be brought into play. In regard to the second point, as one of the most successful bead nurses recently said to us, "The position dees not elevate a woman acclaity if she be unfit for it, but a woman's rather will she gain by dignifying the place sie fills." And we may add, in conclusion, another quotation from Florence Nightingsle's careful plece of advice to ticeship of systematic work; secondly, the fear of we may add, in conclusion, another quotation from Florence Nightingale's careful piece of advice to tnose to her charge: "The real signity of a gentlewoman is a very high and una-saliable thing, which silently encompasses her from her birth to her grave."

Nilica, the Bee's Delight.

Try the delightful oid Eastern perfume, Nilica. This is the long-sought perfume, distilled from the flowers in which the bees delight, and are said to "him themselves to sleep," unable to tear themselves away, the perfume tairly fascinating them. For the present savey has been also been a serie for the perfume to the perfume to the perfume to the perfume to this perfume, but we hope that within another year we shall be able to bring it down to the price of our other extracts. So, until further notice, the price will be a perfume to the perfum

5 ex bottles. 5.20
There is no other house in existence who can make his perfume, therefore beware of initiations. Sold almost everywhere. WM. B. RIKER & SON, druggists and perfumers, 353 6th ave.

. Riker's Compound Dandelion Pills the best LIVER PILLS you can take. No Mercury, no Aloes, no Jaiap. Box)30 pills), 15c.

A RAFE, sure cure fer coughs and colds, ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM. KINSMAN, 25th st., 4th ave. ...

ED DAVIN.

REMARKABLE STORY OF THE PROWESS OF Inck Boylan Looking for a Customer-Coming Boxing and Wrestling Exhibition of the Nassau Athletic Club-A Cocking

Main Between Brooklyn and Newark

Birds-Prospect Harriers' Stag Racket. congregated together after the little scrap on Staten Island the other night when a big stranger started in to tell Pete Donohue all about the great Irish amateur named Ed

a 56-pound weight and throws it up over a pole as high as that windy there, d'ye see," pointing to a second-story window in a house across the street, " and he catches it when it A what-are-you-giving-me expression flitted across the sporting reporter's face, then he enthusiastically remarked: "How I should like to have him outside of my house if there Jack Boylan, who was one of Jack Dempsoy's carliest opponents and gave the Nonpareil a thirty-six-round battle under London prize-ring rules at Harry Hill's, in Flushing, in 1833, is looking for a customer. Boylan says he will fight Dacey, McAuliffe, Daly or any other 133-bound man to the finish for a $300 purse at five weeks' notice. Jack is looking big and strong and some enterprising manager ought to raise the purse if the other men are willing to fight. . . . Brooklyn and Newark game chicken fanciers have decided to fight a main of cocks in January. By the articles drawn up seventeen cocks a side from 3 lb. 14 oz. to 6 lb. 2 oz. will be shown on each side. All that "fall in"—that is, match each other within two ounces on the scales, will be fought for $100 a side a battle and $1,000 the main. A number of other mains are being made, and there is promise of good sport among the feathered warriors late in the season.

The inaugural of "Nassau Night" of the Washington Park (Brooklyn) toboggan slide will take place the first cold weather. C. H. Ebbets is in charge, and everything will be first class.

The first annual boxing and wrestling meeting for the amateur championships of America of the National Association will be given by the Nassau Athletic Club on Jan. 18. The boxing will be at five weights—bantam-weight (105 pounds), under feather-weight (115 pounds), under light-weight (135 pounds), under middle-weight (158 pounds), pounds), under mindle-weight (155 pounds), and heavy-weight (158 pounds and over). The wrestling, which is to be at catch-as-catch-can, is to be at 135 pounds. Billy Rob-ertson's boxing rules will govern, and the entries will close at his store, 296 Broadway, Sailor Brown and Jim Conlin are matched to wrestie, collar and elbow style, at Sweeney's racquet and handball court on Dec. 27 for $200 a side.

The Prospect Harriers will have a grand stag racket at the Prospect Park Plaza on the evening of Dec. 24.

The Essex County Toboggan, Manhattan and Staten Island Athletic clubs' combina-tion show at Orange Thursday evening was a tremendous success—$750 were taken in at the door after every seat was sold. It will be repeated at Stapleton, S. I., to night, and at the Metropolitan Opera-House next Tuesday evening. After the entertainment the other evening. After the entertainment the other evening the 200 performers had a stag racket, in which some thirty kegs of beer were disposed of. A glove con-test was gotten up between Trolan, the Manhattan Athletic Club's amateur lightweight champion, and a Yonkers light-weight named Holden, for a $50 trophy. Trolan knocked his opponent out in the second round. Mr. Gus Backs was the referee and Billy Adams the timekeeper. There is talk of Trolan turning professional. He is cerof Trolan turning professional. He tainly a wonderfully clever amateur.

" Odd Trades Followed in New York City," described in the Sunday World.

A Point for Inspector Byrnes. [From London Life.]

Here is a good story of the redoubtable Master of Balliot. Not long ago an undergraduate of that college lost a roll of bank notes. He had the num-bers and wisely told Mr. Jowett of his loss. "Give me the numbers and say nothing about it to any one," said the Master, who then sent the numbers to the bank teller with a hint not to disclose them. N xt day the Oxford hoardings were covered with peaters proclaiming the loss, but giving the wrong numbers. The thief feil into the trap and presented on- of the notes at the bank, with the primpt result that he was arrested. That undergraduate has recovered all his notes and thinks that Mr. Jowettought to have been a detective.

No One Need Fear a Cough if they can get REER'S EXPECTORANT. Always insist on having Riker's and you are positively one of perfect astifaction. Sold most energehere, Half-pint bottles 60 cents. Win. B. Riker's Sun, Drugiste and Manufacturing Chemists, 505 6th ave., N. V. Established 42 years.

How Young Women who Want to Get College Education Are Handlenpped.

ECZEMA

And Every Species of Itching

and Burning Diseases

Cured by Cuticura.

Exzema or Sait Rheum, with its agonising itching and burning, instantly relieved by a warm bath with CUTI-CURA SCAP, and a single application of CUTICURA, the great Skin Curs. This, repeated daily, with two or three doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Rhood Partier, the best he bleed cook, the perspiration pure and mirritation, the best open, the liver and kidneys active, the process open, the liver and kidneys active, the process of the liver and kidneys active, the process of the liver and kidneys active, the process of the liver and kidneys active and the process of the liver and the liver and the process of the liver and the process of the liver and liver

ECZEMA.

I gratefully acknowledge a cure of Regems, or Salt Rheum, on head, neck, face, arms and legs for seventeen years; not able to waik except on hands and knees for one year, not able to help muself for eight years, tried hundreds of remedies; dactors premanned my case hopeless; permanently cured by the CUTICHA REMINIES.

2542 Dearborn street, Uhicago, Ill.,

ECZEMA.

Some five months ago I had the pleasure to inform you may improvement in the use of the CURICUM REMU-Some five months ago I and of the CUTICUMA REMIN-of my improvement in the use of the CUTICUMA REMIN-DIES in my case of severe Chronic Eczema Erythematics, and to-day cheerfully confirm all I then said. I consider my cure perfect and complete, and attribute it entirely to your remedies, having used no others, FERNAN ESCENCHARDO, ESSO Fenna avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

ECZEMA.

I have suffered from Sait Rheum for over eight years, at times so bad that I could not attend to my business for weeks at a time. Three boxes of CUTICURA and four bottles of RESOLVENT have entirely cured me of this dreadful disease.

Rold everywhere. Price, Cuticuna, 50c; Soar, 25c.; Resolvent, $1. Prepared by the Potter Daug and Ohimical Co., Resolven, Mass.

For Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, 50 illustrations, and 100 testimonials.

PIMPLES, black-heads, chapped and oily skin pre-

HOW MY BACK ACHES!

Back Ache, Kidney Pains, and Weakness,
Soreness, Lameness, Strains and Pain relieved in one minute by the Cutteriera An de-Pain
Planter. The first and only pain-killing Plaster. 25 cents.

THE HOSPITAL

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY ASSOCIATION

of New York City.

1887.

METHODS OF CONTRIBUTING.

GEORGE MACCULLOOH MILLER, President.

AMUSEMENTS.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE

2d and 3d Aves, and 63a and 64th Mrs. COMMENCING SATURDAY DECEMBER 24TH.

A WINTER CIRCUS.

Frank A. Robbins' New Shows.

Two Rings and a Singe-A Zoe ogical Gar-den-Museum of Curiosities-Startling Acrial Performances-Fa ous Riders —Daring Gymnasis, and a Regi-ment of Clewns, Trice-Ausmais and Educated Reasts, to please the children.

Fifty Beautiful Lady Artists,

Handsome Herres, Monkeys, Mischievon Monkeys, Musical and Danding Elephants, Ring Performances Daily at 2 and 8 P. M. Deors Open One Hear before for all the other Wonders, RENERVED - KAT-, 25 AND 50 CENTS. SEATS IN BUXES, 21.

All Seats Reserved One Week in Advance. THE MATINEES especially devoted to Ladies and Children.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY, Dec. 25

HOSPITAL SATURDAY, Dec. 24.

JOHN THIEL, Wilkesbarrs, Pa.

(From Harper's Baser.)
Living in a college town and having opportunity to observe both young men and young women, can honestly say that the sacrifices here made by young women for the sake, of knowledge ar greater, their opportunities of aid far less, than those of young men. It has been repeatedly said by the very able head of the university that the and Wrestling Exhibition of an Atbletic Club—A Cecking ween Broeklyn and Newark spect Harriers' Stag Racket.

ANY athletes were congregated together after the little scrap on Staten Island the other night when a big stranger started in to tell Pete Donohue all about the great Irish amateur named Ed Davin.

"He's the greatest you ever saw, Pete," he said; "weighs just 396 pounds in fine comdition. Why, do you know what's his favorite exercise? I'il tell you. He just takes sight and throws it up over as that windy there, d'ye see," second-story window in a house set, "and he catches it when it set," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it seed," and he catches it when it seed, "and he catches it when it only way to keep down the reut of rooms is to have of study or from the necessity of self-support. In either case it is not merey ungenerous, but unmanly, to leave them struggling with greater obstacles than men eacounter. If they learn less easily—which nobody pretends—they should be helped the more, not the leas. But to call muon them to undergo greater privations, to economize more strictly, to receive less help than their brothers—this is something more than unmanly or ungenerous. In the words of Dickens's disastisfied private the "Liby mean, you know," that's prize-fighter: "It's mean, you know; where it is lit's mean!"

Knew Too Much for His Own Good.

[From the Enfalo Courier.]
"We had a scrap down at our place last night between the divinity student and the servant girl, said a young man that boards on South Division street. "You see the way it happened, we was all sitting around the dinner table and Mary Ann was sitting around the dinner table and mary Ann was brushing away the crumbs when the divinity student remarked that a great many people thought that potatoes first grew in Ireland, wasreas the truth was they first grew in America and were taken to Ireland by Sir Walter Raleigh. Mary Ann stopped her brushing and looked up. Then she broke silence. An' do ve have the faace to sit there an' tell that lot in the same room wid me?'
''' I assure you, my good Mary, responded the divinity students deprecatingly, 'that I tell you the truth.'
' 'An' d'ye dare to tell me that no praties was est in Oireland till they was brought from Amerits, ?"

'' Most certainly, my good Mary."

'' None o' yer good Maryin' me, if ye plase ? retorted the domestic, holly. 'Sure, an' wasn't it the bleased St. Pathrick binnelf as planted the praties in ould Circland, and sie them, an' it was praties in ould Circland, and ste them, an' it was the first place as iver they grew?

''You are quite mistaken, Mary,' said the divinily student, caimly, 'quite.'

''Ster an' I'll show ye that,' cried the frate daughter of Erin, and rushing round the table she hegan to beat the theologian about the head with the crumb brush.

'Bless me, my good Mary!' cried the victim,
'I beg of you to desas.'

''Trote, an' that I'll not,' quoth the girl, 'till I bate senne into your soft head. Tut! the likes o' you settin' up to 'tell when praties furst grew in Oireland!'

'The medical student having contrived to rise

relaud!'
The medical student having contrived to rise The medical student naving contrived to rise from the table, grappied with Blouascella and snaily wrested the crumb-brush from her vigorous grasp, when the isndiady and our fat boarder huatied her out into the kitchen, while the divinity student, a martyr to the cause of the potato, hied him upstairs to put armica on his wounds."

Read Nellie Bly's experiences as a ballet dance

It Suddened Her.

"Mary," said Mrs. Blank to her maid, "you can tell Bridget that she excelled herself in the pies we had to-day for dinner."

A little later Mrs. Blank went down to the kitchen, and found Bridget very sad and solemn. "Wny, west is the matter?" asked the lady, very much surprised.
"Shure, mum," came the answer, "didn't you tell Mary I could go sell myself with them ples?"

Rheumatism

According to recent investigations he caused by excess of lactic acid in the blood. This acid attacks the fibrous tissues, particularly in the joints, and causes the local manifestations of the disease, pains and aches in the back and shoulders, and in the joints at the knees, ankles, hips and wrists. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a pasitive and permanent cure for rheumatism. This medicine, by its purifying and vitalizing action, neutralizes the acidity of the blood, and used many kinds of medicines without good result till one of my neighbors told me to take Hood's Sarssparills, When I had used half a bottle I felt better, and after tak-ing two bettles I think I was entirely cured, as I have not had an attack of rheumatism since." EUGENE H. DIXON, Rossville, Staten Island, N. Y. N. B. Be sure to get

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

AMUSEMENTS. DOCKSTADER'S MINSTREES JOSEF HOFMANN OUTDONE,
FRANK HOWARD, greatest hallad singer,
Last week of "Black Faust" and Musical Siftings,

POOLE'S THEATRE. TO MORROW, SUNDAY EVENING, Dec. 18, at 8 o'clock, MISS MINNIE STEINBRICKER, in her Startling Lecture and Tests on SPIRITUALISM.

Prices, 25c., 50c. Secure seats at theatre.

especially devoted to Ladies and Children.

METROPOLITAN OPERA-HOUSE.
HOPAIANN CONCERTS,
Under the persenal direction of Mr. HENRY E. ABBEY.
THURSDAY AVENING Dec. 122. at 8.15. c clock.
THERDAY APPERNOON, Dec. 27. at 8.15. c clock.
SATURDAY EVENING, Dec. 31. at 8.15 c clock.
JOSEPH 110F MANN.

MME. HE! EN. 14 ~ TREITER.
Prima Donna Contradic ; Theodors Bjorksten, Tener; Sig.
De Anna Raritone; Alies Nettle Carpenter, Mme. Saccom,
Harpist, Sig. R. Sappie, Accompaniet, and Adolph
Notendorff's Grand Overbookers. Sale of Seals begins Monday Dec. 19, at box office. Weber Grand Plane used. Mme. Forestier very willingly assented, and Rénée, wild with delight, rushed home to acquaint her husband with the result of him.

Rénée, however, went to the glass to give one more admiring look at all her finery, when suddenly she uttered a scream of hor-

The diamond necklace was gone! Her husband and berself, both as pale as death and trembling from head to foot, searched the rooms, the staircase, their own pockets, to no avail. The jewel was nowhere to be found. Unfortunately they did not re-member the number of the cab which they had taken.

LYCRUM THEATER.
Begins at 8.15.
RATURES.
NATURES.
NATURES.
Nature Monday 50th Souvenir Night.
WALLACK'S.

WALLACK'S.
Eveniugs at 8.15. Matinee Saturday at 2.15.
Characters by Mesers. Osmood Taate, Harry Edwards, J. W. Pigett, Mine. Ponisi, Miss Notta Guion and Miss Rose Coglian. Contributions are specially solicited on the above days for the GENERAL FUND, which will be divided among the Associated Hospitals, on the basis of FREE care for the sick poor.

Gifts may be designated, however, for any hospital of this city, and such gifts will be duly forwarded by the Treasurer of the Association to the hospital indicated by Treasurer of the Association to the hospital indicated by A CADE 11 ALASTA TIME TONIGHT.

A CADE 12 ALASTA TIME TONIGHT.

A LASTA TIME TONIGHT.

A LASTA TIME TONIGHT.

25c. 50c. 75c. 481.

BOUTH & BARRETT. Sale

Bound a Proper & Manager.

BUOU RICE'S BURLESQUE COMPANY, HOUSE. sumptious production of THE CORSAIR. Evenings at 5. Mats Wed. & Sat. at 2. 2. Through the Auxiliary Associations, as follows:
Dry Goods Trade—A. W. Kingman, Treasurer, No. 60
Worth street,
Clar and Tobacco Trade—Henry Rosenwald, Treasurer, No. 150 Water street,
Drug, Oil and Paint Trade—A. B. Ansbacher, Treasurer, No. 63 John street,
Book Trade—Henry B. Barnes, Treasurer, No. 111 POOLE'S THEATRE 18th at MATINEES.

10c., 19c., 1 AGREAT HIT. MATINEES.

30c., 50c., 1 St. 100, 000 THOR. SAT.

NEXT WEEK, TAKEN FROM LIFE.

AMUSEMENTS

UNION SQUARE THEATRE, J. M. HILL, Manage

The Cornel and Record of the Cornel and Corn

DAVE BLAHAM and his Popular Orohe Wednesday Matines Saturday.

H. R. JACOBS'S 3D AVE. THEATRE

CORNER SIST ST., AND 3D AVE.
MATINEE EVERY MON., WRD. AND SAT.
RESERVED SEATS.,
The Powerful Melodrama,
UNDER TILL LASIL.
Secure seats in advance.
Beware of speculators.
Doc., 19-Hellen & Hart's First

EDEN MUSEE, 23D ST., BET, STH & STR AVES.

ERDE New Painting. New Attractions.
ERDE HONGARIAN ORUHENTRA.
Cencerts from 3 to 5 and 5 to 11.
Admission to all, 60 cents, children 25 cents.
AJ KEB-The Myetifying Chem Automaton.

AJEEB-The Myetifying Chess Automaton.

NIBLO'S.

Reperted seats, Orchestra Circle and Balcony, 50c.
THIRD WEEK, THIRD WEEK,

Matiness Wednesday and Saturday.

14 TH STREET THEATRE—COR. SIXTH AVE.
Matiness Wednesdays and Saturdays.
POBITIVELY LAST TWO WEEKS OF
DE MA. THOMPSON
Gallery, 25c., Reserved, 35c., 50c., 75c., $1, $1.50.

CRAND OPERA-HOUSE.
CRAND OPERA-HOUSE.
Word. MRS. LANCTRY Saturday.

Word. MRS. LANCTRY Saturday.

Next Nunday—PROF. CROMWELL'S lecture,
Saturday PROF. CROMWELL'S lecture,
TADISON SQUARE THEATRE.

ADISON SQUARE THEATRE.

Selection of the selection of the

A HOLE IN THE GROUND.

Monday, Dec. 19-MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATER, MONDAY NEXT,

MR. RICHARD.

FIFTH AVE. THEATRE.
LAST PERFORMANCE TO NIGHT.
HOYT'S LATEST COMEDY SATIRE

MANSFIELD
In his own comedy, MONSIEUR.
Seats may now be secured.

STAR THEATRE. DECIDED SUCCESS.

M1-S JULIA MARLOWS.

Supported by Mr. JOSEPH HAWORTH.
Tonight, Last performance, INGOMAR.
Dec. 18, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florenc.

Drug, Oli and Faint Frade—A. S. Ansbacter, Treasurer, No. 453-bin sirest.

Book Trade—Henry B. Barnee, Treasurer, No. 111
William sirest.

Wine and Spirits Trade—Charles Renauld, Treasurer, No. 53 Water street.

Printers, Paper Dealers and Type Founders—M. B. Wurkeep, Treasurer, No. 121 Fulton street.

Hide and Leather Trade—Treasurer, Charles Hauselt, No. 29 Spruce street.

3. Through subscription lists sant to all leading commercial and manufacturing establishments in the city in the heps that employers and employees will make commens cause in contributing to this bread charity.

Among the trades thus provided with lists are the following:
Gracory Trade,
Clothing Trade,
Clothing Trade,
Clothing Trade,
Suit and Cloak Trade,
Suit and Cloak Trade,
Suit and Cloak Trade,
Clothing Trade,
Straw Goods Trade,
Fundand Tea Trade,
Straw Goods Trade,
Fundand Tea Trad TONY PASTURES TUREDLY AND PATH STREET.
TONY PASTOR'S GREAT SHOW.
AND AND ENGINEES ALBERT OLIVES. A RMORY HALL VAUDEVILLE THEATRE.

156 and 166 Hester st.

First-Class Variety Company. Constant change of bil

HOLIDAY ANNOUNCEMENT. "Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them.

R. J. HORNER & CO.,

Furniture Makers and Importers, 61, 63 and 65 West 23d St., Respectfully invite inspection of their unequalled display of First-class Furniture, including all the latest Foreign novelties, and hundreds of articles specially adapted for Holiday Presents.

R. J. HORNER & CO., New York, London, Paris, Venice and Vienna

CHRISTMAS and NEW YEAR CALLING CARDS. Everything at wholesale prices, All goods made on the premises. Cards for Sunday-schools, &c. Large varioty for Printers and Stationers.

BARNUM & CO. Pranch Store: 35 & 37 Beekinan, cor. William.

to his weeping wife, "that you have broken the class of her necklace, and that you are having it mended. This will give us a few days to look round, and to see what is to be days to look round, and to see what is to be done."

A week elapsed and the poor young couple lost all hope of ever recovering the missing necklace. Rence was thoroughly ill, and her husband looked at least ten years older than before their misfortune. The only thing to be done was to buy another necklace and send it to Mime. Forestier. But how could they do it! They went from jeweller to jeweller, and found a necklace at length which was exactly similar to the lost one. It cost 40,000 frames.

Their entire fortune amounted to only half this sum. They borrowed the rest from money lenders at enormous rates, giving their signatures and engaging their whole future, and at last, after a fortnight of agony, they bought the necklace, and lience, trembling at the idea of being detected, took it to Mime. Forestier, who, without even opening the casket to look at her returned property, told her very coldly that she might have brought it back scoper!

told her very coldly that she might have brought it back sooner!

Then began a life of utter misery and ab-jection for the unfortunate pair. They gave up their lodging, sent away their only servant and went to live in two small rooms in a tenement-house.

Poor, pretty Renee was obliged to cook her busband's scanty meals and to wash his husband's scanty meals and to wash his linen. She wore out her pink nails in scrub-hing the floor, and was forced to do all her ittle marketing herself.

They sold all that they had in order to try to pay the heavy interests on their enormous debt. Work, work, work, and no pleasure for Renea from one end of the year to the other.

The husband, too, worked day and night,

CLOCKS AND BRONZES

We have recently imported a variety of Marble and Mexican Onyx Clocks which has never been equalled for HARRIGAN'S PARK THEATRE.

LOWARD HARRIGAN Proprietor
M. W. HARD HARRIGAN Proprietor
INCONTROVENTIBLE RUCCESS OF GREAT AND CHOUNED HARRICHER ACTING OF quality and price. Special attention is directed to our Antique Dutch Hall Clocks, as also our attractively cased Vienna Regulators and Westminster Chimes, for library, dine ing-room or office. In our Bronze Department we offer choice productions in real Bronze, while the stock of the less expensive goods is worthy of inspection for its superior quality.

A. FRANKFIELD & CO., JEWELLERS.

52 West 14th St.,

NEAR STH AVE.

OPEN UNTIL 10 EVENINGS.

PIANOS. Immense assortment of elegant Upright and Square Grand Pianos. Prices, $275 to $500, and sold on Only $10 per Month. Also, a number of second-band Pianos from $50 to $200. Terms, $5 to $5 ner month. Old Pianes taken in part payment for new ence.

Horace Waters & Co.

124 5th Ave., near 18th St. OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL JAN. 1.

Simpson, Crawford & Simpson. 6th Ave. and 19th St.,

Will keep their Establishment open this evening and every evening until Christmas.

CURE FOR DEAF

PECK'S IMPROVED PAT, CUSHIONED TUBULAR RAR DRUMS restere the hearing in all ones where the auditory nerve is not parsiyased Often enccentral in cases prenounced incurable. Invisible, comfortable, always in position. Music, conversation, with pers heard distinctly. Write or call on P. HIROX, 858
Broadway, corner lath st., New York, for Illustrated
Book of Preofs PREE.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A NUMBER OF GRAND, upright and square pianes of our make, slightly used, almost as good as new, and fully warranted, will be sold at a liberal reduction from regular prices; planos to rent. Wm. Knabe & Oo., 112 5th ave., above 16th st.

THE "OPERA" PIANO, the most popular and the Sneet in the market, only $10 monthly until paids one quarter's music lessons free; rent only $5; send for catalogue. Peck & Son, 216 West 47th st., corner B'way.

DENTISTRY. $4. FULL GUM SETS. -Warranted, 34th et. and Dr. MODEMANN, Denties.

O HOURS .- Sets in 3 hours. Sith at. and 3d ave. 9 P. M. Open until 9 P. M. Dr. MODEMANN, Dentist, 84th st. and 3d ave. 50 C.-Extracting with gas, 50c. 34th st, and 3d ave.

HELP WANTED-FEMALE.

Samples sent on receipt of $2.00. COPVIST-Young lady copylat; one who can brave turned quite gray, and he was bent almost double like a cripple.

At length they succeeded in paying up the entire amount of their indebtedness, and once more they were able to breathe freely.

One Sunday afternoon Renee had gone for a little walk in the Champs Elysess, when she sudienly saw an elegantly dressed woman walking in front of her, and after a moment's hesitation recognized hime. Forestier.

moment's Bestiance.
Forestier.
She felt much moved on thinking of all that she had suffered for that woman, and she determined, now that she had paid her debt, to tell her all.

debt, to tell her all.

Approaching her, she touched her on the shoulder and said softly:

"How are you, Jeanne?"

Mme. Forestier turned round and stared at her. She did not recognize her old friend again in this elderly, common-looking bourgeoise, and lience was forced to name herest self.

"What, Rénée! Is it possible?" exclaimed Mme. Forestler. "What has happened to you? What has changed you so?"
"these you? Wh "Well," replied the poor woman, "these last years have been hard ones for us, and all on your account."

"On my account?"
"Yes. Do you remember your lending me your diamond necklace ten years ago? I lost it."

lost it."

"Lost it! but my dear Rénée, you are crazy! How could that be? You brought is back to me!"

"No, not that one. I lost it and I had to buy another for you. I am so glad you did not notice the difference. But it has taken us ten years to pay for it, notwithstanding the sacrifice of all the ready money we possessed. The one I bought was fully as fine as yours, was it not? And you lost nothing by my stupidity. I am so glad!"

Poor creature! She was smilling with pride and gratification.

The husband, too, worked day and hight, and worn out.

He had made inquiries at the police station, and notices inserted in the daily papers, promising a handsome reward if the diamonds were returned to him, but he acknowledged that he had little hopes of ever seeing them that he had little hopes of ever seeing them again.

"You must write to your friend," said he

A LOST DIAMOND NECKLAGE.

[Franslated for THE WORLD from the French of A. Silvestre. 1

ENEE MAIZEROY was a delicate, pretty and charming girl, very much above her station in life and her surroundings.

Her father was a poor Government clerk, and as both he and her mother had but little money no friends and no social position. she could not even hope that a brilliant marriage might some day transfer her from the terrible assumething of her life to something better and more in accordance with her refined tastes and aristocratic inclinations. Thoroughly disheartened, she married a junior clerk in the Treasury Department. She suffered bitterly, however, for she felt that she was born for a life of luxury and enjoyment, and chafed continually under the more than commonplace nature of her new surroundings, which were hardly better than her old ones.

To live in dingily furnished lodgings was to her a torture. Everything around her larged on her feelings of refinement and on her violent longings for elegant luxury, while the meagre dinners, eaten on a coarse tablecloth, out of common chinaware, and her scanty wardrobe, containing neither furs, laces nor jewels, were a perpetual source of misery to her. Besides this she bitterly felt the absence of flowers, draperies and brica-brac in her poor little rooms, and grew every day more and more discontented with her lot. What exasperated her still more was the fact that her busband, who was thoroughly commonplace, did not even seem to per-ceive the numerous deficiencies of their life, and when, on coming home from his flice, he would sit down to a dinner consisting of a he would six down to a dinner consisting of a thin soup, boiled beef and potatoes and a piece of cheese, with a beaming face and good appetite, she felt like strangling him with her own little white hands, to punish him for his intense vulgarity and lack of him for his intense vulgarity and lack of sympathy.

One evening on coming home to dinner her husband handed her, with a triumphant smile, a large, official-looking envelope, saying: "Well, my dear, here is something that will surely please you."

It was an invitation from the Minister of the Interior to a ball which His Excellency the Interior to a ball which His Excellency was about to give at the Ministry.

Instead of being delighted, as her husband had hoped that she would be, the poorgirl threw the unlucky invitation on a side table, with every token of disgust and vexation, saying: "What am I to do with that?"

But, my dear," he replied, "I thought that you would be so pleased. You are always that you would be so pleased. You are always as the state of complaining of not going in society. This is a magnificent opportunity of doing so. I as-sure you. I had the greatest difficulty in ob-taining this invitation, and I went to all the trouble of doing so only in the hope of giv-ing you pleasure."

"And what am I to wear if I do go?" asked Rénée, impatiently.
Poor man! he had not thought of this, and he stammered: "Well, would not your black silk do, dear? With a few alterations, would it not be good enough?"

He stopped short, perfectly thunderstruck, for his wife had buried her head in the sofa cushions and was sobbing as if her heart would break.

"For heaven's sake what is the matter."

with you?" he exclaimed in great distress.

She looked up with a tear-stained face and an angry look about her eyes and cried; "I cannot go there dressed like a beggar. Give cannot go there dressed like a beggar. Give your invitation to one of your friends. All their wives are sure to be better dressed than I should be."

Deeply chagrined beyond all expression, the unfortunate husband asked tremulously:

"Look here, Renee, how much would a pretty but simple dress cost? Something that you might be able to wear again on similar occasions."

A blush of pleasure mantled her face, and after reflecting for a few moments she said hesitatingly: "I am not quite sure, but I think that it might be done for 400 francs."

think that it might be done for 400 francs."

He turned slightly pale, for this was just the sum which he had set aside with great difficulty to buy himself a gold watch. He replied, however: "Aff right, you shall have 500 francs; but try and get a handsome dress for the money, as it will be a long time before I can buy you another one."

As the great day drew near Kenée, although her dress was finished and was very pretty, began to look sad and downhearted again.

Her husband having inquired as to what might be her new trouble, she acknowledged rather shamefacedly that she was deeply humiliated to have to go the ball without a humiliated to have to go the ball without a single jewel to wear.

She assured him that it would look so odd She assured him that it would look so odd that she would much sooner not go at all. Thoroughly annoyed at her want of com-mon sense, he told her to stick some flowers in her hair and on her dress and assured her that it would look just as well as any jewelry.

She refused to be convinced, however, and went on lamenting in the most dismal way.

"Well, my dear," he said at length, "I do not see why, if you are so anxious to wear jewelry, you should not go and sak your old schoolmate, Mine. Forestier, to lend you some of hers for the occasion. She is very wealthy, and will, I am sure, be delighted to be of service to you." be of service to you."

Rence jumped with joy at the idea, and putting on her bonnet and cloak went straight off to borrow some of her friend's jewelry.

Mme. Forestier, who was a kind, amiable woman, immediately brought out her jewel-box and asked her friend to choose what she liked best.

There were lots of bracelets, lockets and earrings, and poor Rénée could not make up her mind, but kept trying them on before the glass, unable to decide what was the most becoming to her delicate style of the glass, unable to her delicate style of most becoming to her delicate style of beauty. While turning the contents of the box inside out she suddenly discovered a flat, black velvet case, containing a superb diamond necklace. Her heart began to best violently as she pictured to herself the magnificent effect that this truly regal jewel would produce on her white neck, and she would produce on her white neck, and she would produce on her white neck, and she tremulously asked her friend if she would consent to lend it to her.

her mission.

At length the evening of the ball arrived, and Renee created a positive sensation when she made her appearance in the Minister's She was by far the prettiest woman in the room, and was so beset with invitations to dance, compliments and attention from all the gentlemen present that she did not allow her husband to take her home until 4 o'clock

quently had only three hours of sleep before

In despair the poor husband dressed himself again and went back to the Ministry to see if the necklace had been dropped there. He returned at 7.30 o'clock, broken-hearted in the morning.

They had great difficulty in finding a cab to convey them to their lodgings, and it was only after walking hearly a quarter of a mile in the cold, damp street that they met with one of these horrible night cabs which patrol the streets of Paris in quest of adventures.

They were both very tired and out of sorts when they reached their quarters, she because the fets was over, and he because he had to be at his office at 9 o'clock, and conse.